Mr Mark Symes – G Schneider Australia

Mr David Hart – Nutrien Ag Solutions

Mark Symes - I was surprised to see so many entries, in a year with such challenges as the wool industry has faced these past 12 months. It is good to see such enthusiasm amidst the landscape of doom and gloom we have experienced nationally and internationally. The quality of the entries was outstanding and I wish all the participants the very best in a season that has tested resilience to the extreme.

David Hart - It was my great honour to be invited to Co-Judge the 24th Australian Fleece Competition. I have followed the event since it's inception and some years attended the final showing at Bendigo. I have long been an admirer of the unique concept and method of appraisal which is a combination of commercial and subjective qualities. I was not sure what to expect in terms of wool presentation this year. Being based in central NSW I had seen the severity of the drought in southern NSW and Eastern Victoria and been informed by our network that conditions were even worse in Western Victoria and South Australia so I was expecting plenty of dusty, drought affected wool.

My expectation of dust was met (how could it not be?) however what I was not prepared for was the amazing soundness, evenness, length and style of these fleeces. Soundness was a common theme through all the sections which again is a testament to all growers, but particularly those in drought. Less positive was the occasional evidence of poor skirting which left colour and frib in some fleeces. We have no choice but to dock points where this is found, which in some cases penalised quite brilliant fleeces for colour and evenness. Another issue is the incredible length some Merinos are now punching out, fantastic from a productivity angle but less ideal from a processing point of view. It is a conundrum. More frequent shearing is the obvious solution, but this does not suit everyone, be it for cost or management reasons.

Overall I believe the competition is a terrific showcase for our wool industry and wool growers. The breeding and management skill behind these fleeces is extraordinary. I hope that they are better rewarded for it in the near future.

The judges would like to congratulate all growers who entered fleeces in the Australian Fleece Competition.
